FOOD FOR THE PEOPLE'S BRAIN.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting was held in Chickering Hall of great importance. The New York Free Circulating Library invoked the aid of friends and of generous, public-spirited citizens. It depends largely upon private subscriptions, and its growing usefulness will be curtinto heart shapes, encircled with brilliants tailed unless some assistance is rendered and mounted on bracelets and pins, or used as from the purse of the citizen.

There is only one free circulating library in the City of New York. That there is a demand for one is bappily demonstrated by the success which has attended it. For the decade of its existence the circulation of books has steadily increased every year. The expense of maintaining it has also steadily increased. while the means of meeting expenses that ot grown in like proportion. Hence this appeal to the public by the Library. It is a shame that a city like New York should not support a free public library for circulation. Boston devotes $127,000 to its magnificent public library and its twelve branches, and even comatose little Baltimore, which is supposed to care more for a German than for Shakespeare ary interest to a choice canvas-back, gives $50,000 a year for this purpose.

No civilized person can indorse pulverising the Czar with a large dose of dynamite. But every humane being must feel some touch of feeling for the Russian women who, with worse than death confronting them as the result of detection in protests, find means to hurl their declamatory eloquence at the iron despot who grinds them in the dust.

Civilization ought to have some meas sure of repression against such despotisn as the Czar's.

THE IRON-MASTER.

One Barno, yelept Lord Abington, a familiar figure in sporting circles in London, and a maledorous source of scandal, has lately distinguished himself in a fashion to eslipse all his previous record. He knocked down a pretty actress, knocking out several of her teeth, hit her as she fell, and kicked the poor prostrate thing. Ostensibly, Barno is a man and an ironmaster. He has an income of $750,000 a year, has a sporting stable only second to the Duke of Portland and a record which a blackguard would blush for.

Q. Do the Bohemian and German children employed in cigar factories all speak and read English? A. In the large factories they do. There are very few under sixteen and must all of them read.

Q. Where you see violations of sanitary regulations under the province of the Board of Health? A. Yas. I have reported two or three cases. I generally notify the manufacturer and the landlord first, and then if they do not remedy the defects I report them. Col. Emmons Clark once told me I had full jurisdiction in all cases.

Q. Do you know that where any citizen sees a violation of any statute he has a right to make complaint and appear as complaining witness for the people? A. Yes.

Q. Have you ever called the attention of the Board of Health to any violation of sanitary regulations? A. I have.

Q. Are not the water-closets in nine-tenths of the factories so foul and badly arranged that most of the women cannot use them at all? A. No: about half are. The sweat shops are the worst. They evel partitions and put up signs so as to barely come within the law. Large factories are well regulated in this respect.

"I have been in misery since last winter until six weeks are, when I began treatment under Ires. McCoy and Wildman. They gave me relief at once. I was surprised, for I used to doctor with other doctors, but they did me no permanent good. I feel like a different person in the past six weeks, and the second of the like a different person. I have no more pains in right new. I'm not miserable any more. If yet renever suffered with catarrh you can't appreciate what a Godesed it is to fall into the hands of physicians like Drs. McCoy and wildman. I shall recommend everybody I know to go to these doctors if they are suffering with catarrh." Nomada, N. V.
